and we are going to begin this oral history with Mr. Bellotto. Good morning, Mr. Bellotto.

A: Good morning, Mike. Glad to have you here.

M: I gave you some questions that I asked you to look over, but we are not necessarily going to be tied to those questions, and I would like for you to be as free as you would like as far as your own reflections. Can we just begin with where you were born and where you lived when you were a child?

A: Yes, I was born really on the west side of the little town of Dundee here in Polk County in a log house in 19 and 25.

M: And where were your mother and your father from and how did they get to Dundee?

A: Well, my dad really came in through Ellis Island at 14 years old, he and his two brothers. One of the brothers [was] about 17 and the other one was 20. They came through Ellis Island from Italy and his first job, of course, was there in New York laying brick for the roads at 14 years o OG + H FRXOGQ¶W VSHDN D ZRUG RI (QJ Then his brothers went back.

They only stayed here a short time. Dad decided this was such a great country so he stayed and then later, shortly after he was working laying brick on the streets of New York, he found out about the coal mines down in Pennsylvania which he could make more money. He went down there and a shaft fell on him, which the doctors advised him to go south, as far south as he could, so he ended up moving from there into Lake City, a little area outside of Lake City. Actually his farm was where the airport in Lake City is right now. So there he had cows and he had his farm.

M: So that would have been about 1910 roughly?

A: He came over here in 19 and 04 , G R Q ¶ W ctNy, QVIRke, WH at Dyear he got to Lake City, but I do know that my brother was born in 19 and 17 there, so he came there sometime, you know, 1910, 1912. The way he met my mother was I thought an interesting story that he loved to tell.

He was farming and KH ZDV SORZLQJ FRUQ DQG RI FRXUVH, GRQ¶ a whole lot about Indians, but when they go from one area to another, they never go in D JURXS DV ZH GR : H JR DQG WDON DQG KDYH IXQ 7KH come by and may EH LW¶OO EH ILYH RU VL[PLQXWHV EHIRUH DQR anyway, as they were going to town, they had to come right by his farm. So after about the fourth or fifth time, he GHFLGHG WR IROORZ WKHP WR WRZQ DQG WKD-W¶V KRZ K blooded Indian and of course they got married and then my brother was born there, as I said in 1917.

Then from there [Dad] heard about the citrus industry, the fact that they just started planting groves here in Florida, and you probably know the largest packing house we had back in 1892 when you had the freeze was in the Gainesville area. So all that citrus was moving south and Dad came to Haines City and what he did to get there [was] put his cattle and his horses in one boxcar and put all of his furniture and his IDPLO\ LQ DQRWKHU ER[FDU DQG WKH\ FDPH WR +DLQHV & He bought this property to start with, 80 acres, on the south end of Lake Crystal, which is west of Dundee and between there and Lake Hamilton.
