acceptable reasons for appeal would be the death of a relative of the student, an injury or illness of the student, or other documented special circumstances. An appeal may be approved only if the school has determined that the student will be able to meet SAP standards after the subsequent payment period; or develops an academic plan with the student that, if followed, will ensure the student is able to meet SAP standards by a specific point in time. Students who have an approved appeal will be allowed to receive federal aid for a maximum of one probationary semester. Financial aid probation is a status assigned to a student who fails to make satisfactory academic progress and who has appealed and has had eligibility for aid reinstated. After the probationary period, students lose federal aid eligibility until the deficiency is eliminated. Students who have successfully eliminated their SAP deficiency will receive federal aid in their award letter if otherwise eligible.
